Age of Valentino own With Ray Film
at Orpheum

Photoplay program featuring Ray, but made unusually ing by the showing of scenes at marriage of Rodolpho Valentino Winnifred Shaughnessy Hud-former Salt Lake girl, delighted Orpheum theatre patrons Valentino and his bride posed for the world.
men of the Selznick news week-immediately following the wedding ony at Mexicali, that has caus-much furore in Los Angeles and ed, throughout the entire motion re world.
The picture is a scoop obtained Joseph F. Goss of the Orpheum theatre.
For his latest First National release, "The Deuce of Spades," which opened at the Orpheum theatre yesterday, Charles Ray has found his forte in the western mining country of Montana; but he has brought with him all the ingenious mannerisms of the eastern farm that have made him a screen favorite in the past.
"The Deuce of Spades" is a delighful sojourn in the land of two gunmen, confidence sharks and card dealers who can flip off a straight flush with the same nonchalance with which a bartender used to toss out a New Orleans gin fizz. In this hardboiled community the unsophisticated one is obviously out of place.
It is in this role of embarrassed naivete that the star does some of his finest acting. He devotes his energy to finding a worthy husband for Sally, the pretty little miss who is assisting him in his restaurant and genuinely registers a total lack of innocence of her love for him.
If the mining scenes have been reproduced in the studio they have been exceedingly well done. They are some of the best "rough town" sets that have ever been shown on the screen; and the characters who inhabit the hard-boiled community are equally real. Elkhorn Jenkins, who has a finger in every business pie and practically owns Little Butte may not have been fashioned after any one individual, but there are countless numbers who may feel an apology is due them for the way in which the character has been portrayed.

The climax comes when Amos (Charles Ray) falls a prey to the oldest card sharper's trick of all and it brings to the surface a resourcefulness that no one ever credited him with. From this point the plot works to a conclusion that is surprising not only from its suddenness, but from the clever comedy vein in which it is worked out. Ray does some excellent acting and has the advantage of capable support.
Lloyd Hamilton appears in a comedy of merit, entitled "The Vagrant." The same bill with the Valentino marriage pictures continues through Saturday night.

"Love's Boomerang" Will Play Tomorrow Only at the Alhambra

One of the best casts ever assembled in any Paramount picture is that assembled by John S. Robertson, producer, in "Love's Boomerang," a delightful photoplay of circus life, which will be shown at the Alhambra on Saturday only. The featured players are Anna Forrest and David Powell, both well known to American picture fans.
Miss Forrest, seen in the part of "Perpetua," and David Powell appears opposite her in the role of her "adopted father," the artist, Brian. Another important member of the cast is John Milton, a well known American actor, who appeared in several George Fitz-maurice screen productions. Mr. Milton's role is that of Russell Felton, Perpetua's real and rather unpleasant parent.

John Diamond, Brian's lawyer friend, is portrayed by Dick Webb, a well known screen actor, who in a comparatively short time has risen from "extra" to leading man. He made his first hit when he appeared opposite Malvina Longfellow in "The Story of the Rosary."

The principal characters in the circus episodes of the story are played by Roy Byford and Florence Wood, both popular players who are seen as the circus proprietor and his wife, Monsieur and Madame Lamballe. The role of Jane Egg, a bareback rider, is in the hands of Amy Willard. Tom Volbeque appears in the congenial part of Auguste the Clown.
The Robertson producing forces went to France for some of the scenes and worked in conjunction with Le-Circus Pinder during their stay at Le Havre.

NAME SPEAKERS FOR RED CROSS MEETING

A regional conference of the Utah chapters of the American Red Cross, the first of its kind to be held in Utah, has been called at Ogden for June 14 and 15, inclusive during which it is expected there is to be in attendance approximately 125 representatives from the various chapters in the state.

The conference is to be held at the University club and at the First Congregational church.
During the conference the following speakers will address the delegates on the general theme of the work for the American Red Cross during peace times.

sentative of the Pacific division of the American Red Cross.

HURST ENTERTAINED.
LONDON, June 2.—David Lloyd George, the British premier, Thursday entertained William Randolph Hearst, the American publisher, and Mrs.
Hearst at luncheon. It was said at number 10 Downing street, the premier's official residence, that the luncheon was a private party with only a few of Mr. Lloyd George's personal friends present.

PIGGLY WIGGLY

The every-day-in-the-week store

PIGGLY WIGGLY prices today are the same as they were last Saturday unless the market have changed, in which event if they are down you get the benefits today, not next Saturday, next week or next month.

Consistent merchandising, giving you the lowest prices every day in the week, is the PIGGLY WIGGLY policy. That this appeals to the intelligent housewife is attested by the increasing business in Ogden and all over the nation.

New stores are being opened at the rate of about ten stores each week to take care of the increased business.

KING DOES GARDENING

SEATTLE, June 2.—King Louis has become his own gardener. He may be seen any day at the palace grounds spade in hand and dressed in old linen duster, digging potatoes or planting cabbages and turnips. He believes the time has come when kings must be something more than mere constitutional figure heads. "In our country," he said, "everyone must work. Our policy is one of productivity. Even my sisters (Princess Eudoxia and Princess Nadjeda) are doing their share. You will find them in the kitchen doing some useful household tasks. Kings as well as countries have their days of adversity, and it is only through labor that we can regain our normal level."

FOREST FIRES ARE PUT UNDER CONTROL

SEATTLE, Wash., June 2.—Forest and brush fires, which for the past two days have been burning in many sections of western Washington, with heavy property damage, were reported generally under control today, due to a shift in the wind.
Forest officials and timbermen expressed the opinion that a grave threat had been removed.
The most serious fire was reported at Kerston on Raging river where volunteers fought all of Thursday to save the town.

KAYSVILLE FORMS LEGION AUXILIARY

KAYSVILLE, June 2.—Mrs. C. Saxton was elected president and G. D. Rutledge secretary of the new auxiliary to the Elmer Crisp post No. 82 of the American Legion organized here last night.
Dr. B. W. Black, state commander of the legion, and Kirke M. Deane, state adjutant, attended the meeting and congratulated the former members of Kaysville for their good work in securing the cooperation of vigorous auxiliary. Refreshments and entertainment featured the social of the meeting.

The Thrill of a New Suit

---which is becoming

Of course, a new suit can make a fellow look sheepish, too—if it isn't correct.

But when you don a suit which looks like it had been made for you—there is a certain untrammelled joy in that experience which allows for no comparison.

Men who have always held to the Griffon standard know a few things about the pleasure of wearing Griffon Clothes. They know what assured style and guaranteed woollens mean to good clothes.

These days, they are giving spring and summer proper thought—they are putting on the lately arrived Griffon models.
